EDITORIAL STAFF

It is the purpose of this book to present, pictorially, a record of the people and events that have made this year at Weeksville High School a memorable one.

We are proud of our school and the progress it has made in the last thirty years. We hope that the records contained in our book may show our pride and progress.

We salute, with this issue, the graduating class of 1925, which was the very first to be graduated from our school. We feel that they, and the other graduates down through the years, have contributed much to the success of our school and community.

Happy Anniversary to that first graduating class! Congratulations and best wishes to the class of 1955!

To them, and to you, we present your 1955 yearbook with the hope that it may give you much pleasure now and in the future.

In Memoriam

MATTIE CAROLYN STEELEY

In loving memory of one whose untimely death has left a vacancy in the ranks of the senior class of 1955. She will always remain in our hearts and we shall cherish the thought of our association with her along with other memories of our high school years.

"Shall claim of death cause us to grieve
And make our courage faint and fall?
Nay! Let us faith and hope receive--
The rose still grows beyond the wall.

Scattering fragrance far and wide
Just as it did in days of yore,
Just as it did on the other side,
Just as it will forevermore."

Dedication

TO: MRS. W. A. HOUTZ

Whose cheerful cooperation and friendly interest have made our lives more pleasant in the three years she has been with us. We are thankful for our association with you and hopeful that this association may have meant to you a portion of what it has meant to us. With gratitude and love, we dedicate to you this 1955 edition of

THE BOW WOW.

SENIOR CLASS SONG
(Tune: Stars and Stripes Forever)

We're Seniors of dear Weeksville High.
We have traveled this long road together.
Now that our goal is in view,
We are sad and happy too.
We'll cheer for our purple and gold,
And to them we will ever be loyal.
We'll always remember the days
That we have spent together in dear
Weeksville High School.

As we come to the end of our way,
We are facing the future with courage,
The challenge the world offers us
We accept with pride and joy.
The friends that we're leaving behind
We hope will remember our passing.
And though we may be far and wide,
We still shall cherish our dear
Alma Mater.

CLASS POEM

A PASSING THOUGHT

All through the years we've been to school
Here at Weeksville High.
But the time at last has come
And we must say, "Good-by."

The room will soon be empty,
And the seats will be standing there --
Where we were one time sitting
And learning the lesson of playing fair.

But in our passing now,
One thing we'd like to wish you --
May each of you be healthy and happy
Wherever you go, or whatever you do.

Senior Class History

September 51, and the Freshmen homeroom found itself bubbling with gay laughter of twenty nine proud members. Soon Mrs. Bonnie Hilton, our homeroom teacher, had helped us overcome fears and we settled down for a hard year's work. Thomas Barclift was our class president, and Mr. J. N. Finley, principal. The two things that stand out most in our minds for that year were, the Christmas party at Ann Chamber's and a picnic at Taylor's Beach, given by our grademothers. We lost William Bateman and Thomas Parker who decided they had had enough education. Ronald Fenton came in the spring.

Next September we were 29 wise sophomores, the largest roll in high school at the time. Joan Pritchard joined our class from Philadelphia. Shirley Reid did not continue school. This year our high school faculty was completely changed. Mrs. Howard Morrisette was our homeroom teacher, but after Christmas she was replaced by our Mrs. Margaret Houtz. Mr. W. C. Morrisette was our new principal, and Ann Chambers was our president. One of our most pleasant treats that year was a fish fry at "Sand Landing." That spring we chose the color set for our class rings.

We entered our third year of high school with twenty-one names on roll. What had happened to our large class? Peggy Brickhouse was married, Charlie C. Eves and Aubrey James had stopped school, Vernon G. James had gone to Military Academy in Florida, and Ronald Fenton, Clyde Morgan, Henry Parker had remained as sophomores. Audrey Shackelford, who had been with us in the first and second grades, came to graduate with us. Mrs. Houtz was still our homeroom teacher, and Betty Lou Meads, our president. This year was packed with much hard work and plenty of money-making ideas. Our beautiful class rings arrived on October 2. In February we gave the Jaycees a chicken pot pie supper and made very good on it. Spring of that year wedding bells rang for two of the girls, Renie Meads and Joan Pritchard. Jim Hensley from Washington State joined our class in April.

By March we had opened our "piggy" banks and we began to plan for Junior-Senior Banquet. Finally the day arrived, May 7 -- girls in their first formals and boys in their neat suits, at the Virginia Dare Hotel. First we had a wonderful dinner (chicken southern style) and then a prom. We twirled gaily beneath the brightly colored paper which off set our theme "Mexico." This could not have been so successful had we not had the many suggestions from Mrs. Houtz and Mrs. Ausley. Soon came graduation and class night, with the traditional daisy chain -- this time with real daisies. How hard we worked -- and yet it wilted. Nevertheless, it was most beautiful to us.

September 54 -- with 21 seniors occupying the senior homeroom, headed by Mrs. Margaret Bright, our guiding light. Our sentiments were mixed for this was the beginning of the end of one life, and just over the rapids was a new life which will make us strive upstream. Doris Moore was elected our president, and we chose the red rose as class flower and retained the motto we had had our last three years, "We paddle our own canoe." Mrs. Bright wrote our class song, to the tune of "Stars and Stripes Forever." We chose mascots, invitations, and caps and gowns (which were white with purple and gold tassels). Also we decided for our gradeparents to be the ones we had had while in high school. They were: Mrs. Ed Benton, Mrs. James Madre, Mrs. Graham Moore, Mrs. Dennis Reogerson, Mrs. Tom Meads, Mrs. George Fletcher, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lowry. Nancy Pritchard was with us for only three weeks, when she was married. On November 7, we lost one of our beloved classmates, Mattie Carolyn Steeley. Came Christmas, and then New Year's Eve we were entertained by our grademothers with a lovely party at the Marcia Albertson Club House. Back to school, with only 17 seniors; Ann Chambers got married during the holidays.

The last semester we have basketball conference and then our play. Plans for the rest of the year include a trip to Washington, D. C. and points North, also a hay ride and skating party. And most of all Junior-Senior Banquet.

As the stream narrows before the rapids, we see in view, Baccalaureate Sermon, class night and as the last wave rushes forward, "Graduation."

Historian -- Nancy Lowry

Last Will and Testament

We, the senior class of 1955, being of sound mind and body, in spite of opinion to the contrary, do hereby bequeath to the several individuals listed below, the most prized of our possessions, to be used within the period of one year from date:

To Weeksville High School, we leave our absence, without which there would be no purpose in our graduation.

To our principal, Mr. Morrisette, we leave our thanks for all the help, inspiration, and guidance given us during the three years he has been with us.

To our homeroom teacher, Mrs. Bright, we leave our cheerfulness to distribute wherever needed among next year's seniors in case they are reluctant to approach the end.

To Mrs. Houtz, who was our homeroom teacher for two years, we leave our ability to make money in case she ever needs it for another Junior Class.

To Mrs. Ausley, the physics students wish to leave their knowledge of parallelograms to help ease the path of some unsuspecting soul who follows us.

To the Junior Class, we leave our ever-ready, do-or-die spirit, and we hope that this determination may get them some senior privileges.

I, Thomas Barclift, gladly will nothing to anybody because I need it all myself.

I, Alice Ann Benton, will my position as Beta Club President to my cousin, William Charles Benton. Let's keep the Bentons in there, boy!

I, Sandra Brothers, will my ability to make free shots to Ann Davis. (Since we both hit so many).

I, George Fletcher, will my ability to slip by with three subjects to anybody that wants to try it.

I, Jim Hensley, will my position in basketball to Billy Baker. Get some horsepower behind it, Baker.

I, Barbara Long, will my dimples to Bonnie Fenton.

I, Nancy Lowry, will my position as guard to Mr. Williams to give to any girl who he thinks may need it next year.

I, Jenean Madre, will my ability to sing to Marie Gray. Don't let it run away with you, Marie.

I, Betty Lou Meads, will my place in the Beta Club to Frances James. Keep trying, Frances, and you'll make it.

I, Clevie Meads, will my 3 study halls to anybody who needs them.

I, Ellen Meads, will my typing ability to Mrs. Houtz, to give to whoever needs it next year.

I, Fred Meads, will my popularity to Kenny York.

I, Doris Moore, will my ability to play the piano to Jean Faye Brickhouse.

I, Fay Rogerson, will my cute giggle to Peggy Sanders.

I, Audrey Shackelford, will my sophistication (which the seniors put off on me) to the Freshmen girls who will learn to be after four years! Also my grades in general science -- have fun, Frosh!

I, Carol Faye Smith, will my flirty ways to Grace Clifton. Keep trying, Grace, and you'll get him.

I, Byron Swain, will my ability to play football to Clyde (Jughead) Morgan.

Signed and sealed in the presence of one another, and executed on the first day of May, 1955.

Student Council

The student council is the student governing body. Under faculty guidance, and with faculty approval, its members have charge of such as setting up and posting the school calendar, patrolling afternoon dismissal, setting up standards for conduct and penalties for misconduct, and greeting guests and showing them hospitality. The president presides over assembly and appoints standing committee to perform necessary duties.

The National Beta Club is a non-secret, service, leadership club operated to reward merit, encourage effort, and elevate the moral welfare of high school students. Membership depends upon leadership, achievement as shown by an average of at least 90 on all subjects, and character. The Weeksville Club publishes the school paper, and helps promote the use and care of the library by its members acting as librarian's helpers, and by making money to add books to the library.
